

Environment

Women of wine

While Australian female winemakers are not in the majority in the industry, they are leading the way in innovation and sustainability.

read more

Sparks in the Desert

Nestled deep in Australia's Red Centre, the Desert Knowledge Precinct is home to innovative organisations and initiatives that create opportunities for desert communities. These include the Intyalheme ...

read more

Using the Internet of Things to increase global food production

The United Nations has declared a need for new ideas if we are to feed the world by 2050. Australian entrepreneur Ros Harvey is using the Internet of Things and innovative technology to help agribusin ...

read more

© Copyright 2019 Australian Trade and Investment Commission.